Description

Accommodate vs. Assimilate 2017, is a body of work that I created in response to the Carrickmines tragedy. Traveller accommodation, had long been something that was swept under the carpet by those who that the power and ability to make changes for the better. However, it was the aftermath that followed Carrickmines that was the turning point for me, and I created this body of work to try and create awareness around the wider issues of accommodation within the community.
